Program Results and Effect:

The Office of the State Appellate Public Defender (SAPD) provides appellate services for the counties that participate in the capital crimes defense fund in the most efficient manner possible under the statute. The Office of the SAPD relieves county public defenders of the burden of appellate litigation in capital and non-capital cases which account for over 95% of all criminal appeals in the state. The Office of the SAPD is constantly seeking ways to improve its efficiency through specialized education of its attorneys and support staff and the use of technology. The Office of the SAPD makes a concerted effort through communications to increase the awareness of the value of services rendered to the citizens of the state. There are no negative aspects attached to this program. The direct efforts of the program are to serve a critical criminal justice need in both the capital and non-capital arena while at the same time saving the taxpayers money at the local and county levels. The ultimate effect of this program is to improve operation of the Idaho criminal justice system.
